

The purpose of "the government" is to protect, preserve, and even enhance the quality of life of the majority, if not all Americans. Your moves to allow further concentration of media ownership is nothing but a sell-out of your constituents to a few wealthy individuals. That may make short-term political sense, but it's going to come back in painful spades in the longterm.